Talk of Turning Over the Plant to the Sheriff.

That Official Makes Another Vain Effort to Summon a Posse.

The Men Lay Their Grievances Befor Gov. Pattison-Reported Plot to Blow Up the Works With Dynamite.

By Thegraph to The Times.

HOMESTEAD (Pa.,) July 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The situation at Homestead is absolutely unchanged. There is nothing tonight indicating what the next step will be. Perhaps troops will be ordered here, but no one can say. The sheriff made another in effectual effort to obtain the admission of deputy sheriffs to the works and to raise a posse in Homestead. The proposition has been made to the striker that they permit deputy sheriffs peace fully to enter the works and assume charge. The proposition was consid ered at a meeting, but no conclusion was reached, though there was a general expression in favor of accepting the proposition and of submission to law and recognition of the regular constituted authority. The men are in tensely suspicious, and fear that the introduction of deputies would be but a for more important action: cloak the Pinkertons will follow that deputies and non-union men th Pinkertons. Both these latter they will resist to the utmost. The cooler men are advising the strikers to permit the deputies to come in peacefully, but if it be granted the strikers insist that the deputies shall be neither numerous nor well armed and shall not make a move to protect men whom the firm may introduce. The move is really but a continuation of the forcible prevent

WILL RESORT TO THE COURTS. It is understood that the men propose, if possible, to have the question legally decided whether the Pinkertons have a right to bring armed deputies here. Another attempt by the Pinkertons is apprehended, and there is nervous dread of what is to come. Against such an attempt the strikers will array all the power they have. Railroad men are in heatty sympathy with them, and for this reason it will be hard to surprise the strikers with an adequate force. They have plenty of money and the best legal counsel. Guards are on duty against surprise at every point, and dynamite is stored along the trestles to cut communication between the two shores of the river if necessary. It is understood that the men prope THE SHERIPP'S PRUITLESS ERRAND

The mass-meeting was followed by a visit from Sheriff McCleary, accomvisit from Sheriff McCleary, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Cluley and their legal adviser, Petty. They came for the putpose of taising a posse. Ex-Representative Fox, the Sheriff said, additionable him a list of about 100 persons willing to be sworn in as deputies. The Sheriff came to swear them ties. The Sheriff came to swear them in. Among twenty persons summoned seven responded. They refused, however, to aid or assist the Sheriff. The Sheriff would not say what his next move would be, but Mr. Petty said the firm insisted that they were not in possession of their property and he agreed with them. with them. "They will have to be put in possession," said Petty, "that is the county's duty."

A rumor, which stirred up the strikers considerably this afternoon, was to the effect that Rob Pinkerton was in town, but no foundation could be found for it. It is said some of the men have planned against the entrance of any hostile force by train over the railroad bridge into the works. The scheme contemplates the destruction by blowing up of a part of the works, when ing up of a part of the works, when news is received that the men are on the way. Dynamite is in the yards in quantities and it is for the purpose named, it is said, that it is held. REPORTERS NOT WANTED.

will succeed in the end. They are still willing to have a conference, but say Frick will not meet them.

Late this evening the strikers made a practical demonstration to the effect that newspaper men are not wanted. Bob Herbert, of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, was put on a train and sent out of town, and another newspaper man named Hall was notified to leave. At 1 o'clock this morning everything is quiet and there are no indications of trouble in the near future.

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Two chiefs from the Pinkerton agency in Chicago arrived this morning to arrange for the removal of their wounded men. It is stated that they are here for the additional purpose of arranging for another delega-tion to go to Homestead. Rumors say they will arrive topight. The Adjutant-General of the State militin spent the day in conference with the Sheriff, Auralgamated Association officers and prominent officials of the State. The authorities are desirous of settling the authorities are desirous of settling the trouble without resort to an armed force. Every effort will be made to bring the opposing parties together. When it is demonstrated that the civil authorities have exhausted all their resources in valn, it is probable Gov. Pat-tison will order out troops. men coming here.
Sheriff McCleary this morning called the roll of names of 500 citizens summoned to serve as a posse to go to moned to serve as a posse to go to Homestead. Only 28 responded for service. All were prominent business and professional men. The Sheriff announced that as they were unarmed and he had no arms to give them there was no use in going to Homestead. Therefore he would excuse them for the time being. He intended to go himself, however.

The conference between the Amalga mated Association and iron and steel manufacturers continued today with little result. Philadelphia, July 8.—A special train, having on board the remnant of the Pinkerton detective force overcome by the Homestead strikers, reached here early this morning. One of those who stopped here says that on the day of the riot, late in the afternoon, when most of the men favored surrender, one of their number declared that he would never surrender. The others could not, bring him to their way of thinking. He finally went forward and blew his own brains out.

New York, July 8.—The returning Binkertons from Homestead arrived this morning. They declined to talk about the matter. Robert Pinkerton also refused to talk at present, but said he would make a statement later which would show where the fault lay. He would neither affirm nor deny the report that he had already sent a fresh lot of men to Homestead.

PATTISON AND THE STRIKERS

The Governor Receives a Committee and Hears Their Version. HARRISBURG (Pa.,) July 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The committee representing the Homestead citizens and strikers arrived at 10 tonight and from that time till after midnight were closeted with Gov. Pattison and Atty.-Gen. Hensel. After the conference Hensel said the men assured the Governor that the Sheriff could take charge of the property and there would be no resistance to his authority: that he never attempted to serve civil process in Homestead. They commended the Governor's action in net sending troops, and requested adherence to this stand until at least some official had been obstructed in the everging of his authority. The responsiexercise of his authority. The responsibility for Wednesday's occurrence, they bility for Wednesday's occurrence, they said, rested with Carnegie's managers, who brought Pinkertons there as armed employes, without official authority. No organized attempt was made, Delegate Cox declared, to prevent the Delegate Cox declared, to prevent the landing of the Pinkerton men. It was rather the result of an accidental collision than of premeditation.

Gov. Pattison replied that he was glad to know that peace and order prevailed. He wanted it understood that the civil authorities must exhaust all neans before he interfered, but the law must be maintained if it took all the power of the State and the Federal Government.

Delegates Cox and O'Donnell strongly intimated that if arbitration of the existing difficulties could be had it would be accepted, but the company refused to treat with a labor organization and proposed to man the works with nonmion meñ.

The Governor made no response to what was evidently a bint to him to arrange arbitration.

Atty.-Gen. Hensell asked O'Donnell what the men would do if the company secured other men to take their places. O'Donnell did not know. He knew the company had a legal right to do this. It was impressed upon the committee that the legal rights of both sides must be maintained.

The committee returned home early this morning. Refore leaving they are Latest Returns from the English Elections.

Gladstone Will Have a Small Major ity in the Commons,

But Not Enough to Pass His Home Rule Measure.

The Grand Old Man Giving Fresh Proof of His Wonderful Powers During a Most Exciting Election Campaign.

By Telegraph to The Times. LONDON, July 8.-[Copyright, 1802, y the New York Associated Press.] Out of twenty-four county constituen cies which voted yesterday, the Liberals lost two and won two. These results dispose of the last possibility that Gladstone will obtain a reliable working majority. As the elections held yesterday were fairly representative, no great Liberal triumph can be inferred from the county vote when com-pleted, and the last hope fades that a Gladstone government will be buttressed by a strong coherent party. On the contrary the Liberal majority must now depend on the Irish party. Even with the support of both Irish sections it is improbable that Gladstone will have more than a majority of fifty. The Conservatives hold that a majority of more than twenty is improbable. Among the certainties of the future nothing is so certain as a long period of political turmoil. Gladstone, with a small majority, composed of motley groups of Liberals, Radicals, Laborites, McCarthyites and Parnellites, will be within to face! unable to effect any serious legislation. This self-evident fact has given rise to a rumor that he will decline to form a ministry and will recommend Earl Spen-cer for the purpose. The Liberals rightly ridicule the rumor. They know rightly ridicule the rumor. They know that their chief, even with a majority of twenty, is ready to take office and work for home rule. They are also beginning to admit that the chances of a home rule bill passing the house are becoming remote. If it does pass no strain will be put upon the Lords in rejecting it. The peril to the Lords lays in home rule as backed by the decided will of the country. They can reject it now with a light heart. Among other difficulties awaiting the Liberal government is the formation of a labor party not is the formation of a labor party not caring a rap for home rule and ready to caring a rap for home rule and ready to coalesce with any party. Already Burns and Hardie, the strongest repre-sentatives of the laborers, declare their intention to form a party in Parliament and make terms for their support. In addition the new London members are ist group, bent solely on procuring social reform. Thus the opponents of Gladstone hope the home rule scheme will be a failure.

With regard to the new cabinet a treasury official told the representative of the Associated Press that he had obtained information that Henry Fowler will be Chancellor of the Exchequer and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, First Lord of the Treasury and leader of the House. This arrangement contains the startling implication that Gladstone will either retire to the lords or take the lightest part in the government—the Vice-Presidency of the Council. The Associated Press has authority to state that Gladstone, when speakburdens of Ireland, referred to pro posals relating to an arrangement be-tween the imperial and Irish exchequers and the proportion of the national debt assigned to Ireland. In the 1886 bill this was calculated at one-fifteenth, based upon estimates of faxation, ratable values, etc. This was found to be a gross over-estimate. The financial inquiry long engaged Gladstone's attention. In it he was assisted by Goschen. The inquiry tends to show that the apportionment should be one-twenty-second rast of the day.

No Pinkert. Irish returns show that Timothy Harrington is reelected and the defeat of Timothy Sullivan. J. W. Lowther, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, was also reelected by a reduced majority. The defeat of Sir Thomas Henry Gratton Esmonde, anti-Parnelite, by Hon. H. Plunket in Ireland, was received with much elation by the Conservatives, as was also the defeat of Justin McCarthy.

LATEST BETURNS. LONDON, July 9.—At 1 a.m. the total number of returns shows the following elected: Conservatives, 166; Liberals, 132; Liberal Unionists, 24; McCarthyites, 15; Parnellites, 4; Independent Labor, 3. Of the 344 known results, Labor, 3. Of the 344 known results, being over one-half of the whole, the Unionists united have 190 against the united opposition's 154. The Liberals, therefore, would require to capture a number of Conservative county districts in order to obtain a working jority. Sanguine Gladstonians hardly reckon on it.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Second Day of the Convention at New York.

Whitelaw Reid, Postmaster-General Wanamaker and Chauncey M. Depew Among Those Who Delivered the Addresses,

New York, July 8 .- | By the Associated Press. | The second day's proceedings of the great convention of Christian Endeavor societies opened with an early prayer-meeting at 6:30 a.m., attended by 3000 delegates. The regular session opened at 9 o'clock with 12,000 delegates present. After a prayer and praise service the meeting was conducted by Rev. Tyler, of the Disciples of Christ or "Campbellites" of New York. A feature of the pro-gramme, the "Pastor's Hour," consisting of two-minute addresses on the re-lations of Christian Endeavor societies to the different denominations, followed. Then the roll of State and provincial unions was called, and representatives of societies all over the world responded. Rev. Joseph Cook of Boston delivered an address on "Watchwords of the Twentieto Century."

Half-minute testimonies opened the theory are societies.

afternoon session. A delegate from California was the first to speak. He said: "We have the most flourishing Junior Christian Endeavor Society in the country." This was the index of the "testimonies" that followed during the how develed to this feature.

Mrs. Frances Clark, wife of the pre dent of the society, next read a paper on "Junior Christian Endeavor." Whitelaw Reid, Republican candidate for Vice-President, came on the platform at this point and was introduced to the convention amid the waving of handkerchiefs and cheers. Reid said, nanderchieis and cheers. Reid salid, in part:

Such an organization as you display, animated by such a purpose, is of incalculable force for good, not merely in thousands of individual communities which are represented, but in the metropolis. Our forefathers who laid the foundation of the civil and religious liberty we enjoy were men who planted their fortifications upon every hillside: You all know what those fortifications were, the schoolhouse and church. Let us guard them as our fathers guarded them, and we shall preserve the fair heritage we received and transmit it in turn grand and benificent beyond their thought or ours to later generations of men.

Reports from delegates from different States regarding the Juniors were next read. A series of addresses on Christian endeavor in foreign lands, occupied the convention till 5 o'clock.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker came upon the platform and he received an in part:

cided to continue its permanent organization.

We further ask that the Board of Education exercise its undoubted authority to pass rules providing for a term of probation on full pay before a teacher is finally elected. A provision whereby, in justice to yourselves and in justice to the patrons and pupils of the schools, competent teachers only secure permanent positions.

And we also ask von to pass rules providing that all charges looking toward the discharge of teachers be specified in writing, and that the teacher be informed thereof and be given the privilege of justification before your honorable body.

Experience has proved that an examining board, dealing only with granting and revoking certificates, does not provide the teachers the hearing they are entitled to. (Signed)

STRAWBERRY VALLEY, June 27, 1892. -[Staff correspondence of THE TIMES.] We were a cheerful company of boys and girls of larger growth, intoxicated with the wine of the sunshine and filled with the gladness of the morning and the freedom of the hills, as we left Ashland on our return trip to this point We were never weary of looking at the andscape, at the beautiful creeks, borlered with long lines of willows and sycamores, running at the base of the grassy hillslopes. Our eyes were eager for the fresh surprises of the orchardnursing valleys. of which we caught frenursing valleys, of which we caught frequent glimpses between the breaks in the mountains. The chapparal thickets were glistening with dew, each leaf whining, and each grassy blade trembling with its pearl. The pretty orchaid-invironed homes were on all sides, and the gay-chanticleers strutted proudly in the advance of tuelr feathered harems, tress waddled before the water-troughs tress waddled before the water-troughs. geese waddled before the water-troughs of the big barnyards, the pigs were rioting in the dirt, bright-eyed boys and girls, barefooted and bareheaded, watched the train as it passed, while their mothers stood with arms akimbo, and the fathers leaned on their hoes as If to give a thought to the big world into which we were going while they stayed behind in their mountain-guarded

We passed the field in which the emigrant wagon stood when we traversed the by-ways "through the bresh" in the lingering twilight, and moved swiftly on over the space intervening between as and the base of "the Siskiyous." As we elimbed the ascent many a little abin of the new settler was seen in the cabin of the new settler was seen in the distance, the pioneer homes of advancing empire.

But this mountain climb, with all the gold of the early morning upon the mountain tops; with the sweet odors of the forests and the meadows filling all the forests and the meadows filling all the atmosphere, and the yellow shafts of sunshine lending even to the dark confers a wonderful glory, was, to us, full of exhilaration and delight.

There are but few people of intelligence who are not in sympathy with the mountains. We catch their spirit freedom, and drop the trammels of conventionalism, and let nature take us to her broad breast with such a sense of contentment as never comes to us in town.

It was a great, grand picture of repose that confronted us. There was scarcely a breeze astir. Every leaf hung motionless. The hills, slumbering apon the plains, were fertile to their rery tops. Harvests grew clear up to the skirts of the pines wherever the toil has been tickled by the plough.
It was a landscape of plenty.
Ashland and Grant's Pass are built apon granite soil, although the predomlacting soil of this section is of red clay.
It wasks noticeable feature of the mony.

't was'a noticeable feature of the moun sains for hundreds of miles along our way. But I am told that in the prinway. But I am told that in the principal valleys along the river beds of Southern Oregon are deep accumulations of vegetable debris forming rich, plack loams. But ages ago all this vast region arose from the Azoic Ocean, and change has been busy and Time, the great builder, has shaped the land and the mighty mountains as we see them today, leaving only where once an ocean rolled, here and there great land-locked lakes, wonderfully picturesque in their sur-toundings amid their mountained splen-lor. Prof. Candon, an eminent author-ty on geological history, says: "The present outline of the Siskiyou

Mountains was once that of an island that emerged from midocean while Europe was yet in its infancy. The aorthers slope of that island was drained as that region is now, making Rogue Eiver the oldest river in Oregon.

aorthern slope of the disartony of the region is represented by the dark-colored metamorphic rock, from whose quartz vetus the gold of Southern Oregon is derived. Later yet the whole Siskiyou Island, extended by this time to a peninsular connection with California, was surrounded by a sea beach of sandstone that remains to this day unchanged. This later sea beach again the connection with day and at the connection with california, was surrounded by a sea beach of sandstone that remains to this day unchanged. This later sea beach ing cascades, nor such harmony and the tiny rivu-Grant's Pass. The sea washed against it during the cretaceous or chalk period. The sea shells in this sandstone are as abundant and as beautiful as those of any recent sea beach. In this way the island of midocean extended northward and eastward, elevating belt after belt of sea-beach, until the outline of Western and Southern Oregon was

Through what long ages God worked to build all these wonders which fill the eye as we pass over these stupendous mountain ranges, whose sublime won-ders we should yet never behold had not the work of the creative Hand been supplemented by the persistent energy of man, who builded and blasted and tunneled a path for the grown horse that he might carry us over and through this, to us, otherwise inaccessible

One should never travel by night over this road unless wishing to miss scenery as grandly picturesque as can be found along the line of any railroad in the world. The California and Oreon Railroad is a marvelous triumph of engineering skill. On its line up to what profound heights do we climb and what profound heights do we climb and into what immense depths do we descend! As we approach "the Siskivous, we see Rogue crest of the Siskivous, we see Rogue River Valley lying in grand perspective thousands of feet below us, dotted with pleasant farms, homes and orchards. It is rich in its wonderful variety of reaching. How are we to climb relimb them? They confront us like an impenetrable and unscalable wail, whose frowning front seems wavlug us backward as we draw near, saylug, "Thus far shalt thou come and no further." But man is master even in nature's wildest domain. He can hareses the lightnings and speak across the nature's wildest domain. He can harness the lightnings and speak across the seas and continents, and rocky crags and Sierra heights are no obstacles in his path. Yet, when the possibility of a railroad over these mighty Alp-like ranges was first considered, there were many railroad builders, and skilled engineers even, who looked upon the project as a thing impossible of accomplishment. And what wender? Study a map of the most striking points of this stupendous mountain route and it will give even the least observing a faint conception, at least, of the engineering skill called into requisition, and of the

of this road Words cannot describe the wonder fully tortuous way the road is compelled to take in crossing the Siskiyou Mount-ains, or give any idea of the heavy work that had to be done to carve a roadbed over their rugged sides.

Up this long, steep grade, which reaches the sharp pitch of 1/4 feet to the mile, I sat upon the platform of our car endeavoring to take in the indescribable picture as the train swept on a proper or the greater facility and should be greater facility and should be greater facility. around the gigantic flanks and shoul-ders of the mountains clear up to the towering summits.

Like some mighty monster with a hundred Briarean arms the long track clasps the mountains and winds itself about them. There we see the shining rails over which we have passed hun dreds of feet below us; then we look up to see them stretched hundreds of feet above us, and wonder how we are to reach the lofty altitude where they lie. The pines rise and pierce the skies over our heads, and they grow taller and more majestic at the mountain's base, but as we go an we of are we above. more majestic at the mountain's base, but as we go up. up, so far are we above them that they look like tiny needles to our eyes, clothing the earth with greenness like an emerald sea. We cross long trestles beneath which tall conifers sway and silvery cascades leap singing downward, and are borne on through the long tunneled spurs of the mountains. We watch the entrance till down the lengthening distance the light grows dim behind us, tance the light grows dim behind us, giving the opening the appearance of some demon's face; then out we pass again into the bright daylight, still some demon's face; then out we pass again into the bright daylight, still circling upward over the ascending curves till, lo' we are upon the summit, and are riding upon the very roof of the tunnel through which so late we

What a world lies beneath us! What a panorama of scenic wonders! Green and fertile valleys; yellow harvest fields, like a sea of gold hundreds and hundreds of feet below; vast, frowning mountain gorges; beetling grags; over-hanging precipices, immeasurable for-ests, where it has been said that a

Leaving the Siskiyou Mountains behind us we drop down into the Klamath Valley, passing also through portions of Shasta and Hornbrook Valleys, before beginning the ascent of the Scott Mountains. Shortly after passing Edgewood we catch a glympse of Mount Pitt, whose snowy shaft is lifted above the din and cloud like range rising in the intervening distance.

cloud like range rising in the intervening distance.

The Klamath Valley is one of great beauty and fertility, and is attractive for the unique grandeur of its environing mountains. These valleys are, as yet, all sparsely populated, only a few small towns lying along our route, but with the railroad will soon come the sturdy settler and homesecker, and beautiful homes will multiply in this region of scenic grandeur.

Water is abundant here, numerous pure, ice-cold springs finding their way to the surface, and living streams, all fed by the mountain snows, meeting the traveler at almost every turn.

These vallages are made peculiarly

These valleys are made peculiarly picturesque by the cone-like hills which frequently dot their floor, and the mountain views which are forever changing like the pictures of a kaleidoscope as one is horse arms. cope as one is borne onward.

Climbing the Scott mountains, which rise to an elevation of 9000 feet and rise to an elevation of 9000 feet and from the main peak of which three large rivers take their rise, we drop down on the other side into Strawberry Valley, that lovelfest of the lovely, flower-decked valleys of this Sierra region. It lies over 8000 feet above sea level. Here we obtain wondrous views of Shasta all along our route, some of which are far more impressive than the one which we have at Sisson, which, lying only twelve miles lying only twelve me mountain's base, is which, from the near for the most impressive effect to be obtained. The profile view is, perhaps, the most majestic. How the great mount seems to rise as we descend. Thousands of feet appear to be-added to its altitude till it towers far up into the blue, a pinnacle of the lower world penetrating the heavens. Words can give no description of its grandeur as seen along the valley's way. High above the clouds it rises and throws out its banner of snow like a comet sweeping the sky. The world below Chasta's base has no part in his clovilife. It is something apart from us, frozen, solemn and mysterious. Of hardly less interest to me than its great white brother, Shasta, is Muir's Peak, a vast volcanic cone rising to an elevation of between 6000 and 7000 feet, brown and bare, save at its base, amid the thick-set confers without touching the ground; wonderful cañons through which pour the snow-fed streams of the Sierras, running like shining silver amid the grasses and the rocks. Here a little hamlet; there the comfortable home of the sturdy ploneer; then meadows of wild bloom pouring fragrance upon every passing breeze; the happy birds above and below us; the armies of butterflies; then vast boulders rising above the forest tops Eiver the oldest river in Oregon.

"Among the older rocks of the Siskifous are granites and marbles of fine quality, with the marbles in great abundance. Nowhere else on the Western Coast is there such a rich supply of dimestone and marble as this of the aorthern slope of the Siskiyou Mountains. A still later chapter of the his-ing cascades, nor such harmony and sweetness as is poured in the tiny rivu-lets; such unchanging sublimity; such murmurous undertones of melody as we hear amid these illimitable fields of soughing pines as the gentle breeze stirs the millions of emerald needles on their boughs. We are in a world above a world, where Nature is priestess and her awful secrets are hidden in untold rocky fastnesses.

All this great revelation of the majesty of Nature is full of interest for us. The solemnity of these trackless forests appeals to us hardly less than the mountains themselves. We long to pierce their dim aisles and seek their hidden caverns. We wonder what mysteries they conceal. We look at the teries they conceal. We look at the smiling earth and think of the great glaciers sleeping near whose waters are filtered through porous rock and yielding soil to burst out in these shining cascades and rushing torrents and surging streams. We think of the flerce grizzly, the fettless sentinel of these forest the fearless sentinel of these forest ways, and the wild deer coming down to drink at these unfailing waters. It is a grand panorama, but words are feeble to describe it.

From Summit Rock, upon the very crest of the Sickings we see Borne

Upon its top and sides five distinct crater cups may be counted from which the fiery lava once flowed, and for the geologist it holds a wonderful story of past overflows and the formation of the picturesque Strawberry Valley.

But out of death and devastation life has sprung, and great forests, blossoming fields and harvest plains fill our vision now instead of that sea of fire.

For Vice-President.

It is reported that King Alexander of Servia has decided to visit the World's Fair next year. He is 16 years old and son of the much talked of ex-King Milan and ex-Queen Natalie. Tus California Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair has issued a circular urging the women of the State to take an active interest in collecting exhibits. Details of the exhibits desired will be found in our local columns.

THE people who are introducing pampas plumes as insignia for political parties, it seems, have some process of treating the plumes to make them noncombustible. If this process is reliable we must waive the objection presented yesterday against employing these devices as a part of the paraphernalia of torchlight processions. Let the plumes wave and the skyrocket soar.

THE report of R. G. Dun & Co. on the business failures for the first half of 1892 and the business outlook is at hand, with the compliments of the local office. It makes an encouraging exhibit. The total failures for the first six months of the present year were 5503, as against 6074 during the same period of 1891, showing a decrease of 571 The total liabilities for the past six months are $62,273,680, as against $92,416,267 in the corresponding period last year, a decrease of $30,142.587. Reports of the crop and business outlook from various sec-tions of the Union are very favorable— much more so than we dared to expect, in view of the unfavorable weather and disastrous tornadoes and floods which have prevailed in the West and South. Altogether the reports indicate that better times are in prospect for the en-

THE first impression of the political bearing of the outbreak at Homestead was that it would start a general movement of the labor vote of the country against the Republican party, and in sure the election of the Democratic ticket. We think this opinion was su perficial and erroneous. A sober second thought will come to the workingmen. They will conclude very properly that, wherever the fault of the labor trouble lies, it is not with the protective tariff. They will see further that, to take steps for the further reduction or virtual abolition of this tariff would only be making matters worse for them. However, they may be masters of the situation by force of numbers, they cannot thus master conditions when once established against their interests. As to labor organizations generally and the arbitrary methods which they sometimes indulge in, they will certainly not be strengthened by the exhibition of fiendish cruelty at Homestead. There is bound to be a great revulsion of sentiment against such proceedings.

The Secret Ballot in Conventions It is reported, on apparently good authority, that a combine has been formed to gag the coming Republican county nvention to select delegates to the State and Congress conventions by means of the secret ballot, and thus force the majority of delegates in the district to nominate a candidate for Congress who could not be nominated by open and fair means. The programme of the schemers seems very plausible upon its face, and is likely to deceive many people who would oppose it if they understood its real meaning and import. The plan is to introduce a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the convention that Los Angeles county should have the nominee for Congress. No delegate can vote against that resolution. When it is , adopted it is to be supplemented by another reso lution, "that the convention do now proceed to express its choice of the perwho should receive the solid vote of the delegation from Los Angeles county, and that the result shall be labor organizations. We must fight or ascertained by secret ballot of the delegates in this convention." Should the ombine be sustained by a bare majority of the delegates to the county convention, the vote will be taken and Congress convention bound by iron-clad instructions. The delegates are to be chosen by Supervisor districts and by wards, and the minority candidate, who may be popular in other parts of the district, will not appear in will have received its death blow. the convention at all.

The schemers are relying upon the these laboring men? country vote to pass the resolution, which will at once be used for the destruction of the friends of those whose votes pass it. It is a trick to nominate the weak candidate, and if the delegates allow themselves to be tricked by they will deserve the punishment which will follow.

A Little Dialogue. Manufacturer. I am supposed to be the owner of a mill, but I do not control it; I cannot operate it; I dare not even set my foot inside of it.

Querist. How does that happen? M. The property is in possession of other speople. A hundred men who used to work for me and with whom I am at loggerheads on a question of wages and rules have taken forcible possession of it.

Q. Have they any right under the law to take your mill away from you?

Q. Then why don't you assert your ownership and disposses them? In this country it is said that every man's house is his castle.

M. They are too strong for me They are a hundred to one.

Q. Then call upon the State to pro tect you in the rights which it guarantees by its Constitution and laws. It is for this protection that you have paid taxes all these years.

M. I have called upon the State, but it is either too weak or too cowardly to assist me. It seems to be unable to fulfill its part of the contract. At the time when I need its protection most it falls down. I find that I have leaned upon a broken reed.

Q. If the State cannot or will not protect you surely it will allow you to take means to protect yourself. Why don't you hire some men to stand by you and oppose force by force? M. I have tried that, and my men were shot down and captured and maltreated. The workmen are still too strong for me. Might seems to make right in this case.

What other course is left open to

M. I must either leave the mill in the hands of its captors and let it remain idle or I must make peace with them on their own terms. The former of my rights. The second is not much better, since it is a virtual surrender of the control of the property. Without control there is no real ownership,

Q. Is there anything besides a mere sentiment on your part that stands in the way of your making terms with the workmen?

M. Yes, there is a practical quesion, and a very serious one at that-it is the question of how long I can hold doing business at a loss.

Q. Do they impose this condition upon you?

M. Not specifically-they do not stipulate in so many words that I shall pay something out of my pocket for the privilege of conducting the business nd giving them employment, but they hedge me around with iron-bound conditions which amount to that. They have an organization which, without consult ing me, fixes their compensation, the ours of labor, the number of apprentices may employ; the amount of work a man shall do in a day; which instructs me as to whom I shall employ and whom not which sometimes dictates to me as to whom I shall buy my supplies from and to whom I shall sell my products; which tells me, upon occasion, that I must not receive or ship goods over certain lines of railroad; which hampers me in a thousand ways and prevents me from conducting my business as my judgment dictates.

Q. And if you do not follow these in-

M. If I offend in the least of them my business is brought to a standstill I am not allowed to employ other work men; I am obliged to default on my contracts; my property is taken out of my hands by force; the goods which I have already placed on the market are boycotted and merchants dare not handle them for fear of incurring the same penalties. A am, as you see, up a stump Q. Then you are given the alterna tion of doing business under iron-bound restrictions which impose a loss or not doing business at all.

M. That's the size of it. Q. Is this condition of affairs general? M. Yes; it prevails to a greater or less extent all over the country, and it is getting worse every year. That is to say, the laboring organizations are becoming more arrogant and exacting the more they feel their powers

Q. What is to be the upshot of it all?
M. Either capital must combine for self-protection and secure a living chance or it must go to the wall. Q. But that will be arraying capital against labor in hostile lines. M. Certainly; and that is exactly the issue that is forced upon as by the quit Q. But suppose they are too strong for you then

M. Capital will become intimidated and will withdraw from industry as far the delegates from this county will go as possible. Manufactories will be idle and gradually succumb to the tooth of time. Trade will stagnate. Foreign manufacturers, who are not hampered, will come in to supply the markets.

Manufacturing in the United States

Q. And what will become of all

M. Don't ask me. Perhaps they will go to foreign countries where employment is to be had at less wages. Perhaps they will try to start little manufactories of their own. Some of them may seek other avenues of em-

Q. And produce more raw mate

M. Yes; a country, which can't do manufacturing must make its living out of raw materials. Q. Does this mean greater or less prosperity for the country?

M. It means a step backward all along the line. In our country the revolution would not come peaceably, but would involve anarchy, bloodshed, the destruction of property, poverty and

Q. Do you mean to say that such a prospect confronts us?

M. I mean to say that these are the tendencies of the times. If these ten-dencies go unchecked they will undoubtedly lead to such results. Q. But I cannot think that the very foundations of society may be sapped so that individual rights of property will be denied and overridden; that th whole country is in danger of being plunged into a condition of anarchy. M. What happens in part may hap pen to the whole. You see that my individual rights are today denied The State cannot, or, at least, does not help me. To this extent we are already in a condition of anarchy. Virtually there is no law when law cannot be enforced.

What, then, should we prepare

M. The deluge.

Q. Is there, then, no middle ground to stand on-no live-and-let-live principle upon which capital and labor can work together and secure prosperity for both?

M. There is, but it requires moderation, forbearance, and a degree of unselfishness on both sides. It requires that neither shall assume an absolute dictation of affairs. It requires that there shall be neither tyranny on the part of capital, nor tyranny on the part "When two men ride a horse. one must necessarily ride behind." The man who has his capital invested in a business and takes all the chances-who stakes his fortunes on the management -must not be too much trammeled in that management or he will surely fail. He must ride before. At the same time he should give as much consideration as he possibly can to the man who rides behind. Let them consider each other in a spirit of equity and liberality, and they can both ride to success and prosperity. The horse will carry double but it will not carry two men who are fighting for the front place.

Q. Do you think that capital and la finally come together with this kind of an understanding? M. I don't know. It's a quien

ALBERT A. POPE, the apostle of good roads, is making a strong effort to secure the concentration of all exhibits relating to this branch of economics in special building devoted to the pur pose. He finds that the various classi ications, including models of fences, bridges, pavements and paving mate rials, road-making machinery, drains and sewers, rock breakers, etc., are scat tered through five departments and will be located piecemeal in five enormous buildings, having, with their annexes an aggregate area of over seventy-nine acres. Under these conditions a man who wishes to obtain a comprehensive view of modern road-making methods will have to do a good deal of traveling and may not see half of the exhibits then. Mr. Pope has had some correspondence with the World's Fair management, and hopes to make arrangements for the special exhibit. He urges that this would be a most powerful factor to bring about National and State legislation for the construction and maintenance of good roads. He has the best wishes of the entire country in

KAISER AND BISMARCK

Omeial Announcement of the Emperor's Position toward the Prince.

Bemin, July 8.—|By Cable and Associated press.| Retchanzeiger, the government organ, publishes an imperial rescript issued May 28 to all German and Prussian diplomats abroad. Discussing the views and opinions of Prince Bismarck, then lately published in various newspapers, the rescript said:

The Emperor is convinced that either a more placid temper will supervene or that the practical value of the statements in the press will in the course of time be more and more correctly appreciated abroad. Carter Wins the Finals in Men's Singles.

His Game Entirely Too Much for His Plucky Opponent.

The Closing Games Will Be Played Today.

The Popular Game Served Up in Sc Style-Programme for Today-Some of the Visitors-

The tennis enthusiasts had plenty to interest them at Redondo yesterday. It was the third day of the tournament. and as it seldom takes more than two days to weed out the less experienced players, only the experts were left, and of course they furnished plenty of ex-citement. The morning trains on both Briedly summed up, Carter has won the singles, Bumiller second: Carter and Lester and Butcher and Singleton are the only teams left to compete for first honors in men's doubles; the mixed doubles, in which event three teams remain to be played, and at the time of sending in this report Miss Gilliland and Miss Shoemaker are playing off the ladles' singles with a set each to their credit. ch to their credit.

Interest yesterday naturally centered in the match between Bumiller and Carter. A perusal of the detailed description that follows shows that Carter had a walk-over. In the three sets that it took to decide it, Bumiller won but one game and scored but 28 points against his adversary's 76. During the tournament Carter played against Way, Routh and Edwards in succession, each of whom piled up more games against him than did Bumiller in the finals. The scores, however, must not be confounded. While playing a somewhat listless game in the opening rounds, Carter is free to acknowledge that he put up the game of his life yesterday. He worked hard to make every shot tell. Bumiller resorted largely to the volley game, and he was defeated because Carter placed the balls where he couldn't touch them. As long as the former can connect with the ball he is a hard man to beat, but in Carter found an opponent of sufficient skill. he is a hard man to beat, but in Carter he found an opponent of sufficient skill to keep the balls out of his reach, and so he was defeated. While the match was one-sided it was not lacking in interest, and those present were treated to a magnificent exhibition of tennis as it should be played. No one appreciates Bumiller's strong points more than Carter himself, and he predicts that with more experience and practice he will make a player of more than local reputation. he is a hard man to beat, but in Carter

THE MORNING GAMES. It was after 10 o'clock yesterday morning when the games began, owing to the late arrival of some of the contestants. Play in the men's doubles was resumed, the first match being between Bettner and Edwards of Riverside and Turner and Way of Los Angelee. The evening previous the first set in this contest was played and resulted in a victory for the Riverside team after a hard fight by the close score of 6-5. When the second set started yesterday, the spectators were numerous and of course they did all in their power in the way of liberal applause to encourage their respective favorites. This set went the way of the one that preceded it. The Riverside men won the necessary six games before their opponents could capture more than half as nany and they accordingly moved up another notch in the line of victory.

The 10:50 Santa Fé train brought down among other notables in the tennis line Carter, Cawston and Lester of Santa Monica. As soon as these gentlemen could don their court costumes they were called into action. About the same time Mrs. Chouteau of Los Angeles and a party of enthusiastic ad-It was after 10 o'clock yesterday

Carter and Lester meanwhile had appeared on the asphalt to pit themselves against a second Riverside team, composed of Bettner and Edwards, that had already downed several combinations of distindowned several combinations of distinguished players. Not satisfied with this, the hard-pressed committee got a third attraction in working order on the middle court. This was the first match in the ladies' singles between Mrs. Chouteau and Miss Shoemaker of Pasadena, the draw having resulted thus, giving the bye to Miss Gilliland of Riverside. It reminded one of a circus with three rings, where the spectator is simply bewildered by the variety of the attractions presented before his astonished eyes. Here were two Riverside teams playing against two Santa tonished eyes. *Here were two Riverside teams playing against two Santa Monica teams, and a third contest between Los Angeles and Pasadena, as represented by their respective lady champions. The result was one victory for Santa Monica, one victory for Riverside and one victory for Pasadena. Carter and Lester did not have a very hard time winning two straight sets from Bettner and Edwards by the score of 6-3, 6-2. have, hence their defeat.

Two courts away, however, Riverside evened up on Santa Monica. Here it was that Butcher and Singleton defeated Cawston and Routh likewise in two straight sets and by exactly the same scores, 6-8, 6-2. This contest attracted much attention and every british same scores, 6-3, 6-2. This contest attracted much attention and every brilliant stroke elicited great enthusiasm. Although vanquished by a decided majority of games, the Santa Monica team put up a really brilliant game at times, kouth's work being especially deserving of favorable comment.

In the center court Miss Shoemaker won an easy victory over Mrs. Chouteau in two straight sets, 6-1, 6-0. The latter, however, has been practicing steadily of late and showed marked improvement in her game. This closed the morning's play.

miller. The seats on the west side of the court were filled with enthusiastic spectators, and although the contestants did not prove as evenly matched as had-been anticipated, there were numerous brilliant plays that merited the liberal applause they evoked.

Carter won a love game at the start on his service, Bumiller playing wild. The second game went the same way, Carter placing the balls where, his opponent couldn't get them. In the third game Bumiller knocked too many balls into the net and outside the court, and Carter accordingly won that also. The

and of course they did all in their power in the way of liberal applause to encourage their respective favorites. This set went the way of the one that preceded it. The Hiverside men won the necessary six games before their opponents could capture more than half as n. any and they accordingly moved up another notch in the line of victory. The 10:50 Santa Fé train brought down among other notables in the tennis line Carter, Cawston and Lester of Santa Monica. As soon as these gentlemen could don their court costumes they were called into action. About the same jime Mrs. Chouteau of Los Angeles and a party of enthusiastic admirers arrived over the Redondo road. This insured three entries in the ladies singles.

Routh of Santa Monica was on deckearly in the day, and as soon as his partner, Cawston, arrived, they joined forces to see what could be done in the way of doing up Butcher and Singleton of Riverside, who had been setting a hard pace so far for any team that happened to run up against them. Carter ond set, 6-1.

The third set opened with Bumiller at the bat, and he struck out, to stick strictly to baseball parlance. Carter won on his service, and the score was then 2-0 in his favor. At the end of then 2-0 in his favor. At the end of the next game it was 8-0. It was the same thing over again in the game that followed, and so on until Carter had another love set to his credit, and the match as well. The three sets were played inside of an hour.

THE LADIES' SINGLES.
Following the Carter-Bumiller match, the finals in ladies' singles were played between Miss Shoemaker and Miss Gilliland. Both contestants were at their best, playing a steady, and at times a brilliant game. Miss Gilliland won the first set, 6-4. The second was won by Miss Shoemaker, 6-8. The third set was also won by Miss Gilliland.

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFES. SIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESS PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have railed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an emisent; physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolongation of his life. This present consists usually of a broad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends, it is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disease which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

THE Dress Goods on display in our south show window is the most desirable line of high-class suitings ever placed on sale in this city; they are all new imported goods; they were made in Germany. We have bought and sold the same goods this season from the same house these were purchased from at $20.00 a suit. Our price for Monday at 9 o'clock will be $6.65 for suit complete. They are 40 inches wide and each suit contains eight yards—six yards of plain and two yards for trimming. The trimming in this lot of suits are pure silk; they will be on exhibition in our Dress Goods Department, where all can examine the quality, and this we particularly invite, knowing them to be of more than ordinary merit. Why do we do it? A new tack has been taken in this business; it is to do more for the employees than any other house in this city; to go to the extreme on this point. In return they go farther and do more to properly wait upon trade than any other house in this city. Then offer real genuine bargains in the very best class of goods that will go out in all directions, and in this way provoke the most favorable comment in favor of the goods, the prices and the treatment accorded all customers of this house. Our Cloak Sale of last week was the most popular and far-reaching of any sale ever made in this city. Our Pocketbook Sale was still more pronounced, and this sale of Dress Goods will go farther to show the real value of the character of our offerings than anything else we have ever placed on our counters. You can return the goods at any time and get your money if you feel in any way dissatisfied and for any reason you do not want them. It is equal to selling gold dollars for 33c each. Don't hesitate, but come in and thoroughly examine the quality; they are goods of the highest character, first-class and perfect in every way. Closing out Shoes at factory cost to greatly enlarge the Cloak Department. Largest in sales and the largest increase in business ever made by any house in this city. We close tonight at 6 o'clock. Reze, the Burglar, Convicted in Short Or der-Writ of Review Asked for the City Bank Assessment-Gen-eral Court Notes.

A small-sized sensation was caused in the United States District Court yesterday morning, when the habeas corpus day morning, when the habeas corpus-case of Manuel Falomir, alias Rod-riguera, came up for decision, by an an-acouncement made by M. E. C. Munday, Esq., counsel for the petitioner, to the effect that single the matter had been submitted on Wednesday last he had learned from a reputable source that some of the witnesses who testified as to the identity of his client, had done so falsely. He asked, therefore, that the Court postpone its decision, until he

At the close of this testimony, the Court ordered the writ dismissed, and after denying the petition, remanded the prisoner to the custody of J. M. Obando, the Mexican Commissioner. CONVICTED OF BURGLARY.

Louis Reze, a young Hungarian, appeared before Judge Smith and a jury peared before Judge Smith and a Jury in Department One vesterday for trial upon the charge of having burglarized the residence of J. Schlesinger. No. 1211 Hill street, on May 30 last, Assistant District Attorney McComas appearing for the prosecution, and F. S. Adams, Esq., representing the defendant.

The jurors selected to try the case were: R. Barber, J. A. Barrows, J. Brymer, S. H. Case, J. B. Camp, J. M. Clyman, D. D. Johnston, C. L. Lamou-veaux, J. McArthur, H. L. Pinney, C. W. Strong and C. C. Warner.

The following witnesses were called and examined for the prosecution: J. Schlesinger, A. O. Benson, J. Newmark, W. A. Bosqui, J. Blumenthal and H. V. Wattell.

The evidence of the prosecution was approximately the defendant purely circumstantial, the defendant having been arrested the day after the burglary of Schlesinger's house, while attempting to dispose of some of the stolen property at a second-hand store, and the femalader being found at his room at No. 239 % East First street. His defense, however, was so very flimsy as to leave no doubt in the minds of the jurors as to his guilt, and the result was that five minutes after the case had been submitted to that body a ver dict of conviction was returned, where-upon the Court ordered the defendant to appear for sentence on Monday

The 830,000 proposed improvements guaranteed by a deposit in bank of that amount, to be paid out to the contractors on certified vouchers as they progress with the work.

Description of the Property.

The land is a rich, black loam, and is known as the Fowler Ranch. It was purchased many years ago by the late Senator Tom Fowler of Tulare, when he had the opportunity of obtaining the cream of Tulare and Kern counties. It is in the center of the artesian, fruit and alfalfa belt; has upon it now a sample artesian well flowing $80,000 gallons, and is in the immediate vicinity of the largest flowing wells in the State. The Present Price and What the Investment Will Pay.

The Present Price and What the Investment Will Pay.

The low rate of the purchase, 225 per acre, with all the present and the projected improvements herein recited, made and paid for by the present owners, at a cost of $30,000, enables us to guarantee at the lowestrate of sale in the future, say $100 per acre within a eyears, an interest of 5 per cent a month on each share of $100 from the date of subscription.

This tract has one section already fenced, a colony house, the present flowing well large reservoir, etc. The improvements to be made by the present owners will consist of an irrigating canal of 12 miles, six more artesian wells as feeders, survey and division into 40-acre tracts, survey and laying out of the town of Colonna, broad avenues through the The fall of the land is sunction for drainage and admirably adapted for the conveyance of water by canal, as there is nothing to obstruct its course.

How the 5 per cent, per Month on Each $100 is to be Earned for the Five Years.

Many well-known citizens thoroughly versed in the capabilities of lands in Southern California double the estimate that we here set forth of $100 per acre within five years, and assert that at the end of that time this splendid body of land, improved as proposed, with water conveyed to each tract, will command readily and quickly $200 per acre. But we place it at the low fluor mane, $100 per acre, and any larger amount that it may be sold for will increase the percentage which we claim it will earn at our figures.

the end of the five years on 1630 shares ......

Sales of 6800 acres at $100 per acre ... Sales of 880 town lots of one-quarter acre each...... 44,000 00

This would leave a surplus of $22,000 after paying the interest of 5 per cent. per month This surplus would meet all expenses for the full term; salary of superintendent, taxes, expenses attending sales and any extra improvements that the trusters might deem Placed Before the Public for Investment.

The Southern California Land Company of Los Angeles now places this tract before the public and strongly recommends it for the investment of large or of small amounts. This company has conducted in the past seven years many large successful land deals in Los Angeles. Its record is without reproach, and its references include th: leading citzens of Southern California. Its clients have numbered hundreds of investors in the childs tract, Urmston tract, city Center tract, etc. Its dealings, have amounted to him dreds of thousands of dollars and it stards today one of the most popular firms in this section of the state.

An Interest of Five per cent. per Month Must Arrest Attention, An interest of Five per cent, per mouth mass arrest accounts. An investment with perfect security and earning 5 per cent, per month on each 800 share for a term of five years from the date of the first payment of 80 must arrest the attention of every one. It will also be borne in mind that should the stockholers elect to sell at 8100 an acre within, say two years and a half, half of the time that we here propose their investment will not them 10 per cent, per month for that period.

Full Security.

This is not a land distribution, but an investment of money with return of money and interest. Building associations and savings banks are all founded on real estate security and pay from $108 per cent. per year. Here you have not only the best real estate security but your investment also earns 5 per cent, per month, and at the same time you own your own proportion of the land, 4 acres to each share, until it is sold by your own trustees, and then you have your division of profits.

eting of the Harrison Club-The Odd the Third Partyltes and

Among other new and progressive move-ments in Pasadena, that of making the public library, of which Pasadena has ever been justly proud, a free library, is worthy

At a business meeting recently held by the library board of trustees, the details of this arrangement were completed, and, while the library proper has been closed since early in June, work has steadily been going on for its reopening August 1 as a free library.

The reading-rooms have been continuously open, and will be, but no books are issued at present. All books in circulation were called in some weeks since and nearly all have been returned in good condition.

The librarian is at present busily occupied in reading the proof of the new catalogues, which have been made by her as a gratuitous gift to the library. This work of cataloguing has been an arduous one and is quite independent of the Dewy classification, which was made last winter, classification, which was made last winter, although it includes it. Each book on the catalogue is given the Derry classification number and will be called for by the number instead of the name, but the catalogue comprises the entire. Ilst of the library books, with name in full, and these are divided into different departments, literary, fiction, juvenile, etc., to enable the drawers of books to easily select their favorites.

Under the new system the reading-room of the library will be free to all as it ever has been, and also all books of reference; the books of the circulating library proper has been, and also all books of reference; the books of the circulating library proper will hereafter be free to all citizens of Pasadena wno are taxpayers, all non-residents who are taxpayers on city property, and to all children over 12 years whose parents are citizens and taxpayers or who are guaranteed by city taxpayers.

A guarantor's name will be required on each security blank which must be presented by every holder of a free library ticket proving that they are both residents and taxpayers.

sented by every holder of a free library ticket proving that they are both residents and taxpayers.

Residents of outside towns will be charged $1.25 each quarter for the privilege of drawing books if not owning property in Pasadena.

The contract for getting out the catalogues was given to Mr. Swordigger and if they are ready August. 1, the library will probably then be opened to the public.

An assistant will be given the present librarian, for the work will be greatly increased and the necessity of materially adding to the number of library books under this new plan will be apparent. The library now contains about 5000 volumes and 5000 more are absolutely needed and must be procured at once. Hereafter but one book will be allowed to be taken from the library at a time on a single card, and the meager number of volumes will be made to do the work of more so long as possible, but unless the library is greatly added to, the benefit of a free library of such limited resources will but poorly fill its intended mission.

In reply to a remark from Lawyer Jackson that it was simply a question of veracity between Superintendent Johnson and Mahoney, Engineer Harrington said that whenever Johnson informed Mahoney that the work was being unproperly done he (Mahoney) would tell his workmen to do the work as Johnson directed, but when Johnson left would tell them not to pay any attention to the superintendent.

A WEIRD SKILL STORY

A Newspaper "Fake" Without any Foun-

A morning paper sprung a weird skull story on its readers yesterday and attempted to scare up a sensation from the wilds of the upper San Fernando Valley. The story is to the effect that the head of a man was found swinging by the hair of the head in the woods, and from indications it had recently been severed from the body. A search for the body was made without success by some of the frightened Mexicans.

Guy Longstreet, who owns an interest in the ranch, was seen by a Times reporter yesterday afternoon, and stated that a skull and skeleton hand of an unknown man were found there some time ago, and were nailed up in the barn of some of the boys to frighten tramps and Mexicans away, but the bones were buried some time ago.

In regard to the startling announcement made that assessments under the letter G had been omitted by the Assessor from the assessment list, your correspondent is glad to state that the list has been found to be assessment so. That the list has been found to be correct. The assessment book used was one eight or ten years old and the leaves under the letter G had been exhausted and the hames had been entered under the letter F. The Collector on Thursday in searching for a G assessment turned over the leaves one by one to the end of the book, but neglected to look toward the front, and thus he decided-those names had been entirely omitted. The writer believes in acknowledging an error when committed and in doing justice to all. Assessor J. J. Schneider and Deputy J. Landell evidently were not at fault in this matter. However, the suggestion is made that the district furnish the assessor a new book next year, Considerable dissatisfaction is being felt among the stockholders of the water company over the discharge of Zanjero Kroeger-because he would not furnish a bond as required by a rule of the board. Kroeger fulfilled his duties during his term of office to the satisfaction of every one, and there is no doubt that he was the best zanjero the company ever had. At a recent meeting of the board a resolution was offered to rescind the rule requiring a bond to be furnished by that official, but it was defeated and a new man was appointed in Kroeger's place. Now, while there is a rule or by-law of the company in existence requiring a bond from the zanjeros, the board could not make an exception in favor of one of the men, but as those officials do not handle a cent of money of the company's and are continually under the direction and surveiliance of the board of directors, the superintendent and the correlator.

During the past year Jim has been in the employ of Eugene Germain and has had his confidence to such an extent that Mr. Germain would have trusted him with any amount of money, and when he was informed that Jim robbed him about six months ago he could hardly believe it. At that time Mr. Germain was the owner of a fine Knights Templar watch charm, mounted with three diamonds and valued at $125. One morning he lost it in his yard, and as Jim was working among the flowers he was asked to look out for the charm, and he and Mr. Germain be-the charm, and he and Mr. Germain began a search.

Nothing more was heard of the charm until yesterday morning, when Detective Benson saw Jim trying to sell some old gold in a pawn shop. The officer at once suspected that the property had been stolen, so he took Jim in custody and marched him to the central station, where he was searched.

The diamonds had been removed and were found on Jim's person, and the

FATHER AGAINST SON.

Young Charles Wickersham Convicted of

Charles Wickersham, the Boyle Height's boy who removed thirty yards of carpet and a clock from his father's house on Boyle Heights in March last and disposed of the property to a sec-ond-hand dealer on Main street, was tried and convicted in Justice Owens's department of the Police Court yester-

The boy's father prosecuted the case, and gave such strong evidence against his son that the court had to convict him. The mother was present in court, and the poor woman did all in her power to save her son, but she was the only witness he had and she knew but little about the matter. She stated that her son gave her the money to buy the clock with, but she used it for another purpose and pur-chased the clock from the boy's grand-father at her son's request with her hus-tears to more than one pair of eyes while the mother was on the stand. The young man will be sentenced today.

There were but two drunks in the Police Court yesterday. They were given ten days each in the chain gang. Charles Lovett, who deposited $10 for his appearance on a charge of dis-turbing the peace, did not show up in the Police Court, and the Court de-clared the bail forfeited.

Charles Corlew was convicted of fighting, and will be sentenced by Police Justice Owens today. Corlew and another hard citizen engaged in a salpon fight the other night. saloon fight the other night.

Jean Delbasty, the proprietor of the Pico House, was convicted in the Police Court of disturbing the peace, and fined $10. He attempted to fire one of his lodgers out, and a fight fol-

The Hollingsworth boys and Ed Mc-Intyre were tried in Justice Owens's court on a charge of fruit-stealing yesterday. Ed Hollingsworth was discharged and Charles was sentenced to four days in the city prison. Young Melntyre was sentenced to four days, and the Court also committed him on and the Court also committed him on an old case for ten days, making four-teen days that he will have to serve.

Successful Trial of a Novel Mechanism to Propel Small Boats. A novel method of propelling small boats was successfully operated last evening for the first time at West Shore Lake by the inventor, R. L. Johansen of this city, who built the boat at the old Second street cable power house.

The boat is propelled by a two-bladed fourteen-inch screw, which is revolved by working a lever back and forth. By a very clever and ingenious system of cogs and chains the movement of the lever produces a continuous and uniform motion to the shaft attached to the Arrival of the New Catcher—Nick Young's Rank Decision.

Ed B. Lytle, known in baseball cir-cles as "Pap" Lytle, arrived in Los Angeles last evening with his wife and will leave this afternoon for San Francisco where he will join the Los An

Lytle will play his first game tomorw, and will probably lead off the batting list, as he is more than an average hitter, a splendid "waiter" and a fast man on the bases. He is a well-built man and makes a fine appearance both on and off the field. His habits are of the best, and he belongs to the class of men who elevate the game. In the Pacific Northwest League last year Lytle played in ninety-eight games and had a batting average of .293, with 110 runs to his credit, there being but two players in that league who made more than 100 runs. Before the opening of the present season Salem was admitted to the Northwest League and Lytle was selected to manage that team. ting list, as he is more than an average the Northwest League and Lytle was selected to manage that team. He was in the East signing players when Salem was dropped to make room for Spokane. Col. T. P. Robinson has been officially notified by President Nick Young, national taffy disburser in baseball matters, that the protested game with Los Angeles has been forfeited to Oakland. This is the famous one to nothing game played on the Los Angeles grounds, when the bleachers projected about fifteen feet on fair ground out in right held.

There is about as much justice in awarding this game to Oakland as there would be in forfeiting last Monday's game to San Josée because Balsz used so much speed that the Dukes could not hit him, or in forfeiting a game on general princ ples because Bill Hasamiear is too tall a man to play ball.

The portion of the bleachers that was on fair ground had no more to do with on fair ground had no more to do with the outcome of the game than if they had been transported to the South Sea Islands on that particular occasion. Not a single ball was either batted or thrown into them during the afternoon and the Los Angeles club got just one man across the plate by the favor of Pitcher O'Neill, who gave a man his base on balls when the bases were full; the Oaklands were shut out. However, the decision of Nick Young is final, and while it will not be claimed in any quarter that there is even any decency in such a decision as this, it will have to stand. Such a puerile rul-ing would not be made in the case of a National League or even a Western League dispute, and the California League certainly deserves more consideration than this. The Times deplored the first decision of this kind when a San José game was forfeited in this unprecedented manner. Both of these games should have been declared off and played over, but Nick appears to be equal to any emergency when it comes to twisting the rule to fit any case.

The Insurance club and the Univer sity nine will play a game this after-noon at Athletic Club Park. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

"Pap" Lytle says that George Darby of last winter's Los Angeles Apollos is not only Omaha's best pitcher, but is one of the best pitchers in the whole Western League Western League.

PUBLIC WORKS. endations Adopted at Yesterday' Meeting of the Board.

The Board of Public Works met yes terday morning as usual, and, after a rather lively session, in which the treet-sweeping contract cut the principal figure, the following recommenda ions were adopted for submission to the Council Monday.

In the matter of bids for street-sweeping, we recommend the acceptange of the bid of Alexander & Gibson, at the rate of $10 per mile for all width streets, and that the City

Attorney prepare a contract.

On the petition of F.M. Benedict et al., for the city to abandon a portion of Twenty-first street, between Estrella and Lovelace avenues, we recommend that the petition be denied, as we deem it unwise to reuce the width of any street only sixty fee wide.

On the petition from George H. Stewart et al., for Council to order Hope street, between First and Third streets, graded, graveled and curbed with cement, and sewer laid in said street, all to be done under provision of part 4 of the general street, law, we recommend that the City Engineer present estimate of cost, and if the same is in excess of $2 per front foot that he also present ordinance of intention.

On the petition from W. G. Bradshaw et al. for Council to order grades of certain streets established so as to conform to curbs now existing on said streets, we rec-

Official that the city Clerk advertise for bids for the sprinking of Downey avenue between Alta street and the city limits, and First street between Olive street and Lakeshore avenue, the said orinkling to be done during the pleasure

f the Council. We recommend that the City Engineer we recommend that the City Engineer present to the Council what in his judgment would be the best method of adjusting the discrepancy in sidewalk and cement curb in front of the property of F. H. Page at the corner of Fifth and Main streets.

We recommend that petitions 304, 344, 378 and 377 be filed.

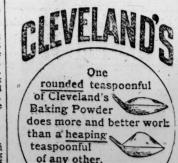

376 and 377 be filed.

On the protest from J. H. Burks against the establishment of the grade on Burtz street we recommend that the grade be not established until Mr. Martz deeds thirty feet on said Burtz street for street purposes in accordance with agreement with said J. H. Burks. 376 and 377 be filed.
